Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

Saint John Vianney

A Mission Church of St. Thomas Aquinas Parish serving you since August 10, 1997
1100 Hood Road, Rio Rancho, NM 87124

Friends in Christ Jesus,

Today is Stewardship Sunday, the day we consider to either commit or to recommit to sacrificial giving. Sacrificial giving, known also as tithing, is a biblical teaching. The Old Testament and the New Testament teach that we, the faithful, should give part of what we earn to the Church so that the works of the Church can progress. Of course, our Lord is not to be outdone in generosity, so when we are generous in giving we abundantly receive in return. Please take time to prayerfully consider what you are able to do.

Thank you and have a blessed week,

Fr. Scott Mansfield

Sacrificial Giving by Carl E Beyer

This Sunday theme is Sacrificial Giving so I thought I would speak a little on this topic. First let us all hang our heads and remember the HP 2605 Color Laser Duplex printer which semi-died this past spring from faithfully printing the bulletin. It gave all it had but in the end it was not able to handle the load. It was flawed from the beginning because the great minds at HP decided that all the cartridges would run out at the same time regardless of the color mix on the page. It still prints faithfully for me just as a black and white printer. It has basically been sent out to pasture and used only to keep up its self worth so it doesn't end in the great junk yard of computer components.

Let me introduce you to the new star printer in the task of the bulletin. Presently an HP 4700n printer is doing the job. It is smart enough to know how much toner is used in each cartridge so it is a money saver. At 31 page per minute it is quite quick at its job. Lacking a duplex module I have to interact to flip the pages but this turns out to be much faster than duplexing each page as it is fed through. At over 100 lbs and 2 1/2 feet tall we are talking a monster printer, at least for "home" use. Being in use since April we hope to have many months of use but I am sure in time it also will give up it's ghost.

The next piece of equipment I have been very impressed with is a Techko paper folder. This was one of the least expensive folders I could find. Contrary to some rumors I do not have a money tree on my property. I am not sure when it started it's career as St. John Vianney folder but I believe it was back in April 2007 and has had very few jams and just churns out folded pages in a fashion seldom seen in low end equipments. I hope I didn't jinks it with such high praises.

Next in the process of putting out this great form of communication is the people involved. I create the bulletin in Publisher and print it. Many a nights I have laid awake thinking about what to write and how to best present the bulletin. I know you all thought I was just brilliant and winged it but not always so. Then printing and flipping the pages it goes off to the rest of the crew.

My daughter, Falicity, generously puts all the paper through the folder. I hate to admit it but the folder scares me. It create such electrical buildups that I am afraid of getting shocked out of my socks. She then stuffs the two sheets of folder papers together. Thank you Falicity.

After this my son, Arkulas, drives the precious cargo over to the church for the first mass. One more month and the drive will be shorter. With Arkulas owning a car he bought himself before he could get his license and getting his license the day he turned 15½ I do not think driving is much of a burden to him. But I thank him anyways.

The last but not least is the 8AM Ushers that stuff St. Thomas Aquinas bulletin into ours and if I haven't done so lately, I thank you all for doing this for us.

Now you know all the sacrifices that goes into this bulletin, be sure and read it. I look forward to hearing how you all sacrifice for the church.

God Bless, now go forth and sacrifice for your all mighty God.

Merriam-Webster Unabridged Version

Main Entry: stew·ard·ship

Pronunciation: -ship

Function: noun

Etymology: Middle English stewardshippe, from steward + -shippe -ship

1 a : the office of steward b : the administration of the office of steward and of goods or duties entrusted to one's care

2 a : the individual's responsibility especially in certain religious groups for sharing systematically and proportionately his time, talent, and material possessions in the service of God and for the benefit of all mankind b : the careful responsible management of something (as an institution) entrusted to one

One Sunday morning, a man was pulled over by a motorcycle cop for speeding. As the officer asked the driver for his license and registration, passing motorists would slow down, then honk and wave.

After about the twelfth driver passed by, honking and waving, the officer asked the speeder what was going on. The driver told him, "I am the minister at the church a mile down the road. That's where I was going when you stopped me. The members of my congregation recognized me."

The officer smiled and tore up the ticket. "I think you've paid your debt to society," he proclaimed.

A mountaineer and his son went to the city for the first time. In one of the buildings, the man saw a set of doors open, an old woman enter, and the doors close. Soon the doors opened again, and a young woman stepped out.

The man turned to his son and said, “You stay here. I’m going for your mother to run her through that machine.”
